

We know that finding ammo for the course is scare right now due to nationwide ammo shortages. Your local stores like Academy and others are not your best bet right now – unless you have an inside source when the ammo truck arrives and you are first in line it's unlikely you will be able to find anything local.

We recommend checking each of these sites daily, early in the morning as they update their stock.

Best Places to Buy Ammo Online

1. Palmetto State Armory (PSA)

My go-to online place for buying BULK ammo is Palmetto State Armory. They will usually be one of the best prices for cases (1000) rounds of popular calibers...like .223/5.56, 9mm, and .45 ACP.

2. LuckyGunner

<https://www.luckygunner.com/>

My go-to place to buy ammo online is Lucky Gunner for their selection, real-time inventory, and fast shipping, and shipping estimator. I've been a customer of theirs for a while.

I find a lot of other retailers skimp in website tech or their shipping departments. There have been too many times where the following has happened:

- I find a great price, order, my credit card is charged, and then I get an email a couple days later that they are out of stock. Now I can either wait for a backorder or get a refund which ties up my credit card for a week.
- I order and it takes a week or two to ship out my order.
- I try to see my shipping costs and I have to create a login and enter all my details first.

LuckyGunner is great since they take care of the three problems above. You get to see their live inventory next to each product, they have a 110% guarantee that your stuff will be shipped the next business day, and you can easily calculate shipping without creating a login.

3. Brownells

Brownells is where I get most of my specialty tools and gun parts. They also have unparalleled customer service, reasonable shipping, and some good ammo deals.

They are caught up in all the website technology which I love, so you can add all the ammo to your cart, input your zip code, and see the shipping. Makes it much easier to compare across websites.

They stand behind their products and I've found it really easy to return stuff. However, I'm pretty sure you can't return ammo for safety reasons. But for parts and tools, they are the best!

4. Cabela's

<https://www.cabelas.com/shop/en>

Hunters and fishermen know and love their local Cabela's and since their acquisition by Bass Pro, Cabela's ammo prices have dropped even further!

Best of all, they almost always have the best hunting ammo you can find in almost every caliber you can think of.

Don't forget to look at the Cabela's branded gear also, everything from optics to rifle bags to jackets can be found with their brand name on it and so far I've never been disappointed with the quality or price!

5. Midway USA

Good prices and live inventory – what more do you need right? They have great communication and I have typically received shipments quicker than the estimate.

Midway USA often isn't the very cheapest option to buy 9mm ammo, but you can buy with peace of mind that you're buying from a super-well established business with a great reputation.

Other Suggestions

These didn't make our regular list, but desperate times call for desperate measures and they might have some stuff left...
